Business & Management,
BSc at the UE

Become an expert in leadership and benefit from a cross-industry education in business studies.

Why the UE?

The University of Europe for Applied Sciences is one of the leading universities in Germany in the field of Business Studies. The UE has offered career-oriented programmes on an international level for more than 20+ years. Our programme 'Business & Management Studies' provides students with a practice-oriented foundation on their path towards leadership. This is a great opportunity for students who want to get ahead in their career, especially since the demand for young professionals in the field of business is consistently increasing.

In addition to the different fields of business studies, entrepreneurial thinking and innovative vision, you will also learn strategic awareness and get the chance to grow professionally and develop your personal strengths. Our team of trained and experienced lecturers and business experts are highly skilled in creating engaging classroom environments that allow you to establish your business knowledge and practical skills.

You will benefit from learning unique skills when it comes to topics such as innovation practice as well as entrepreneurship on an international level. By taking part in interdisciplinary majors and a variety of elective modules as well as a semester abroad, you will graduate with a promising professional profile. By choosing UE, you will not only study at one of Germany's top 10 private universities but also experience career support from the university and a guaranteed visa extension of up to 18-months after graduating.
